

hello.you

We are looking for a FULL TIME

IT Project Manager (m/f)

Are you passionate about project management? Are you a responsible, enthusiastic and committed team leader? Do you always put your clients' needs first? Then we would like to meet you!

WE OFFER...

a varied roll dealing with international clients and well-known brands, and performance-related remuneration on a permanent contract. Most importantly, we offer a warm atmosphere and a family-friendly, team-oriented work environment!

WE...

are enthusiastic fashion and lifestyle fans. We love what we do! Enjoyment and commitment are at the core of everything we do. It is no coincidence that our clients include some of the biggest brands in the fashion and lifestyle industries.

We develop complex e-commerce solutions and web applications that offer a perfect user experience on desktop and mobile devices.

As an IT project manager you work hand in hand with the project team, coordinating and managing them from the beginning of the project right through to the end. Sound knowledge of common project management methods is a must.

YOU...

love processes and have a knack for understanding, analysing and optimising them. You have already gained some professional experience as a project manager and are a communicative team player who enjoys maintaining sustainable client relationships.

We look forward to receiving your informative application documents with cover letter, CV, certificates and references, your salary expectations and your earliest start date.

Please address your application to Birgit Albers: b.albers@she-business.com.
